

NEIGHBORHOOD TREE FUND 2001 SPECIES LIST

Texas Mountain Laurel– Sophora secundiflora

Description: Evergreen, many-stemmed, thicket-forming small tree with a short, crooked trunk, stout, spreading branches, a compact, rounded crown and large, sweet-scented, violet flower clusters.

Height: 20 ft.

Caliper: 1 ft.

Texas Persimmon – Diospyros texana

Description: ornamental tree, part shade to sun, attractive bark, fragrant flowers in spring, black fruit on female plants ripen in fall and are favored by birds and mammals.

Height: 15 ft.

Caliper: 1 ft.

Size Classification: small

NEIGHBORHOOD TREE FUND 2001 MAINTENANCE PLAN

Desert Willow– Chilopsis linearis

Description: Small tree with open, spreading crown, narrow, willow-like leaves, large showy flowers and very long, narrow, bean-like fruit.

Height: 20 ft.

Caliper: 6 in.

Size Classification: small

Lacey Oak– Quercus laceyi

Description: Medium-sized tree with beautiful light peach-colored leaves in the spring, blue-green leaves in the summer and a darker peach in the fall.

Height: 35 ft.

Caliper: 1 ft.

Size Classification: medium

NEIGHBORHOOD TREE FUND 2001 MAINTENANCE PLAN

Cedar Elm– Ulmus crassifolia

Description: Relatively fast growing tree with a narrow, rounded crown. Leaves turn yellow to gold in the fall and seeds are eaten by birds especially cardinals.

Height: 55 ft.

Caliper: 2 ft.

Size Classification: large

Texas Red Oak– Quercus buckleyi

Description: Moderate to fast-growing, often multi-trunked shade tree with striking fall colors of scarlet and orange.

Height: 55 ft..

Caliper: 2 ft..

Size Classification: large

